POULSBO, Wash. (July 14th, 2022) – Kinwell, a new approach to primary care headquartered in Seattle, opened its latest location in Poulsbo today. Located at 21800 Market Place, the clinic is home to seven suites designed for patient comfort, blending the best in modern technology with thoughtful details to create a welcoming guest experience.

Kinwell recently opened three locations across the Puget Sound region, in Lynnwood, Renton and Seattle, on Denny Way. The new Poulsbo clinic is the latest in an ongoing effort to serve communities throughout Washington that need more primary care options. Additional clinics will open in Western Washington throughout this summer and fall, including one in the Ballard neighborhood of Seattle and another in Olympia.

“At Kinwell, our mission is to address the gap in access to timely primary care,” said Dr. Mia Wise, chief medical officer at Kinwell. “Through community-based teams of local physicians, nurse practitioners and physician assistants, we build trusted, long-term partnerships with our patients, so they feel comfortable returning to our clinics to optimize their health over time.”

Kinwell clinics provide primary care and behavioral health services, in-person and telehealth visits, online appointment scheduling and reduced wait times. Expanded primary care services treat everyday ailments like a sprained wrist or upset stomach, as well as manage chronic conditions such as diabetes and depression. Kinwell patients have free access to the MyChart app, through which they can make appointments, manage billing and contact their healthcare team.

To book an appointment at the Poulsbo clinic, patients can log into their MyChart account via the app or call 833-411-KINW.
