MILL CREEK, Wash. (August 22, 2022) – Kinwell, a new approach to primary care headquartered in Seattle, opened its newest location in Mill Creek. Located at the Mill Creek Gateway shopping center, the clinic is home to seven patient suites designed for patient comfort with thoughtful details to create a welcoming guest experience.

“This new opening in Mill Creek continues our mission at Kinwell to address the gap in access to timely primary care throughout our communities,” said Dr. Mia Wise, chief medical officer at Kinwell. “We’re excited to offer our community-based teams of local physicians, nurse practitioners and physician assistants to continue developing a genuine connection between each patient and their healthcare team.”

Kinwell recently opened additional locations across the region, in Poulsbo, Lynnwood, and Seattle, on Denny Way. The latest Mill Creek clinic is part of an ongoing effort to serve communities throughout Washington that need more primary care options. Future clinics will open in Western Washington throughout the fall and winter, including one in the Westlake neighborhood of Seattle and another in Olympia.

Kinwell clinics provide primary care and behavioral health services, in-person and telehealth visits, online appointment scheduling and reduced wait times. Expanded primary care services treat everyday ailments like a sprained wrist or upset stomach, as well as manage chronic conditions such as diabetes and depression. Kinwell patients have free access to the MyChart app, through which they can make appointments, manage billing and contact their healthcare team.

To book an appointment at the Mill Creek clinic, patients can log into their MyChart account via the app or call 833-411-KINW.
